 - a. Karl Linklater fund

The Karl Linklater Award Fund's main purpose is to help sponsor delegates to attend the ISVA (International Sheep Veterinary Association) congresses, such as young veterinarians in lower income countries who are trying to advance their knowledge and skills in sheep health and production. The fund has been built up by the proceeds from the sale of the World of Sheep and Goats book and by donations and the Karl Linklater Challenge. Thanks to the help of Moredun the Fund is now a registered charity and qualifies for Gift aid for UK taxpayers. This allows us to reclaim 25p for every £1 donated by a UK taxpayer.

The fund has been able to sponsor 3 vets for this Congress: Bonnie Munthali from Malawi - Goat Project Summary which hopefully some of you heard earlier;

Denis Majyambere from Rwanda - Gender a crucial variable for livestock transboundary diseases control and management - Lessons based on RVF vaccinations in Nyagatare District of Rwanda. Monday; Innocent Nkangala from Malawi - The status of sheep production in Malawi - The opportunities and the challenge - tomorrow morning.

The hope is to raise more funds through donations for the remaining World of Sheep and Goat books available at reception and the Karl Linklater Challenge. The idea of this is that you set yourself a challenge and see how far you can go. Contact me if you are interested.

I set myself a challenge to travel 500 miles or more by walking and cycling. So far I have reached 517 miles.

b. 2021 Virtual ISVA Conference

There were 243 registrations for the Virtual Congress which ended up making a loss of over 12,000 Euros. Our thanks must go to the organising company, Grupo Pacifico who kindly wrote off the loss. I have a copy of the accounts in Spanish if anybody wants to see them. However, one benefit was we were able to sponsor 59 delegates from 11 countries thanks to a grant from Animals publication to the Karl Linklater Award.

Due to the rescheduling of Congresses to every three years we feel it is necessary to review the bid process for the 12th ISVC in 2028 to give the Congress committee sufficient time to book venues. Rather than voting on the bids in Australia the proposal is to have Preliminary bids in by September 2024 with online voting to approve the final bid in December 2024 giving the winning country time to present their plans in Australia in March 2025.

6. Secretary's Report (Secretary-Treasurer)

We would like to thank Richard Anderson and the NZVA for continuing to host the ISVA webpage at no cost <http://www.intsheepvetassoc.org>. Richard will be migrating and updating the webpage right after the ISVC – we look forward to the changes. The website will be down for a few weeks while this is happening.

Retouch of the ISVA ceremonial logo

The only digital version of the ISVA logo was of low quality. A designer was engaged to update the logo so that we have a high quality logo suitable for print and web-pages

We currently have 26 member countries but continue to solicit more

Membership is open to national veterinary associations of countries recognised by the United Nations, provided that such associations are private organisations funded mainly by the private subscriptions of its members.

National members are encouraged to form special sheep (veterinary) interest groups within the national association. This interest group may also include other food animals as long as it includes sheep.

Delegates should be nominated and supported by their association
